A SAMHAIN POEM

As darkness fall, the veil thins,
The year is drawing nigh.
Shadows lengthen, gather strength,
The year is drawing nigh.
The dead they stir, and look around,
The year is drawing nigh.
Tonight they walk, tonight they dine,
The year is drawing nigh.
Faerie folk, there's magic afoot,
The year is drawing nigh.
Samhain's fires, burning bright,
The year is drawing nigh.
We feast and dance and laugh and sing,
The year is drawing nigh.
Ancestors come close, some long gone,
The year is drawing nigh.
We tip a glass, we place a plate,
The year is drawing nigh.
Give thanks for what has gone and passed,
The year is drawing nigh.
In darkness strong, the dying year,
The year is drawing nigh.

MAKE SHRUNKEN APPLE HEADS!

A cool science experiment and it is great fun watching them change over time!

WHAT YOU NEED:

Some apples

Salt

Lemon juice

- First peel your apples. You can leave a little on the top and bottom like a little hat and scarf.
- Find some carving tools (a chopstick, grapefruit spoon or pen knife all work well) You can trace your design first with a pen or pencil, if you like.
- Carve out a face, making sure to make each feature large since they will shrink up as time passes
- Then mix up some salt and lemon juice and apply it all over, especially in the parts you've carved out. This will prevent mold and also protect them from getting too brown.
- Now just put your apple heads somewhere to dry. Choose a place where you can watch them and keep up with how they change.

Salt has been used for thousands of years to preserve foods and other things

Acids like lemon juice slow oxidation (browning caused by a chemical reaction when substances react with oxygen).

AUTUMN LEAF BATS

Make some spooky autumn leaf characters!

WHAT YOU NEED:

Some big autumn leaves
Black and white paint
Some googly eye stickers
Pegs
A pen or acrylic marker
A paintbrush and water

FOR A BAT

- Paint a peg black and leave it to dry - this will be your body
- Find two leaves that look similar - these will be the wings
- You can decorate the leaves with designs if you want to or paint them black
- Peg the leaves together to look like wings and pop two googly eyes on the peg
- You can hang your bat up with string or put it on a stick

FOR A GHOST

- Find a big leaf shaped how you would like your ghost to look
- Paint it white and let it dry
- Stick two googly eyes onto the leaf
- You can make a lot of leaf ghosts and staple them to string to make a spooky garland!
